

60 cents out of every dollar
you spend for coal
goes up the chimney!

Government experiments have proved that the ordinary under-draft stove wastes about 60 per cent of the heat value of the fuel, in soot, smoke and gases, which escape up the chimney.

And it has been proved in thousands of homes that Cole's Hot Blast Heater, by stopping this fuel waste, saves one-third to one-half in fuel.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Heaters

"Cole's Saves Coal"

Cole's Hot Blast burns your fuel twice. First it burns the soot, gases and smoke, by mixing them with superheated air and driving them back upon the fire, where they are completely consumed. Then it burns the bed of clean coke which is left after the fuel gases have been extracted.

There are other important advantages which mean much to every woman. Cole's Hot Blast Heater means a cleaner home, because there is no spilling of coal and ashes on the carpet. You pour the coal in at the top of the stove instead of throwing it in at the side. And the ashes are removed without spilling. Only one-half the ashes to remove.

You can sleep later every morning, too, because this heater holds fire all night and there is no fire to build in the morning. Just open the draft. This stove will actually hold fire from Saturday night to Monday morning.

This stove burns any fuel—hard or soft coal, coke or wood—with the same saving, and the most steady, even heat you ever saw.

Come in and see our special demonstrations and displays of Cole's Hot Blast Heaters this week. It will save you money.

the present manager, Harold Smith. Both as A. Hatch and Company and the Heber City Exchange, this business is probably the city's longest in operation.

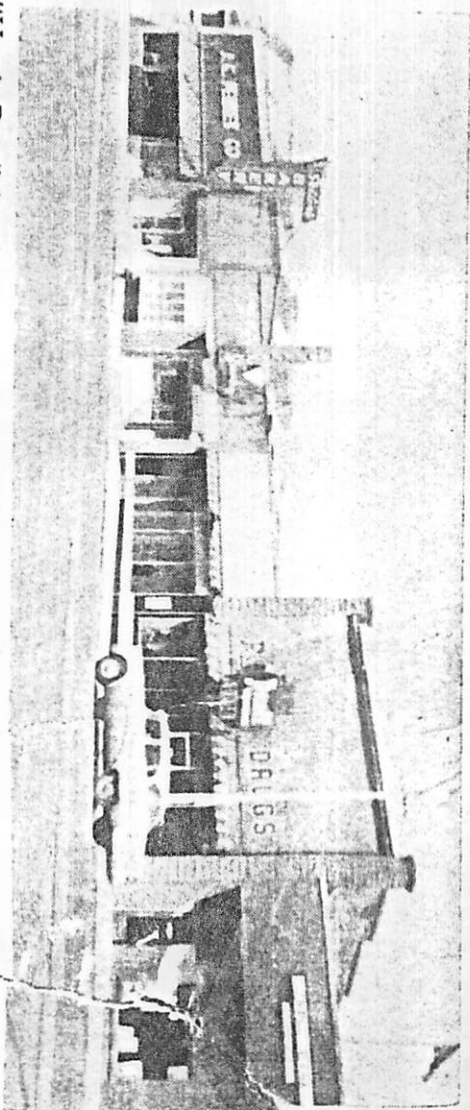

One of the most prosperous business sections in Heber during the years is the area known as "Hatch's Row." This section included buildings between Abram Hatch's residence and his store on Main Street. Some of the businesses along this row have been a harness and shoe shop operated by Danielson and Dahlman, the A. L. Davis barber shop, a saddle and harness shop owned by Nephi Forman, the Wave printing and publishing offices, J. W. Buckley's men's store, the Smith Meat and Grocery operated by George Smith & Sons, Earl and Sylvan Smith, and others. Today, the "Hatch Row" includes the Aloma Motel
